CHASE OF MEXICAN BANDITS COMES TO END

AMERICAN TROOPS WHO CROSSED RIO GRANDE TODAY ON UNCLE SAM'S SOIL

No Official Confirmation Received of Reported Death of Renteria.

SIX BANDITS ARE DEAD, HALF DOZEN WOUNDED

Troops Show Traces of Hard Riding Through the Mountains.

(International News Service)

MARFA, Texas, Aug. 25.—The chase of the Mexican bandits who held two American airmen for ransom is ended and it is believed all of the troops of the United States cavalry who crossed the Rio Grande are back on American soil.

There is no official confirmation of the report that Renteria, leader of the outlaw gang, was killed by machine bullets fired from American airplanes. It is not known whether the Carranzists, cavalry, which has been conducting a man-hunt for the bandits, has been withdrawn.

During the six days that the chase was in progress the Americans are believed to have killed six bandits, captured six more and wounded several. All of the troops show traces of the hard riding through the mountain as they came back across the Rio Grande.

(By JOHN EDWIN NEVIN.)

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 25.—The American punitive expedition, made up of troops from the Eighth cavalry and one from the Fifth is back on American soil. The search for the bandits who kidnapped Lieutenant's Peterson and Davis ended when the "hot trail" was lost. The bandits have scattered and their leader Renteria is reported more than 50 miles south of the farthest point reached by the American raiding forces.

He is declared positively to have been located at a ranch house near San Pedro. This information influenced the American army officials to withdraw as there was no chance of overtaking him. However, officials believe the pursuit has done a great deal of good and that the bandits must realize they will be followed in the future and that the Carranza government at last realizes it must afford protection to American lives on the border. A report that Renteria had been killed by an American machine gunner is not credited by army officials.

ADDITIONAL GIRLS WANTED TO LEARN HOSIERY KNITTING

Another cheering industrial announcement was made today when Charles M. Jolley, local manager of the Decatur Hosiery Mills, declared the company desires about 15 more operators for the Decatur plant.

"We have orders to run us probably a year," he said. "And we now are anxious to procure additional help. Of course, we prefer trained operators but we are willing to train them if the applicant desires. We are employing 60 girls now and intend to bring our total here up to 75."

Sessions Resumed by Circuit Court Today

The circuit court of Morgan county is in session today and will continue until the first of September, presided over by Judge Floyd Tate, of Wetumpka, who is taking the place of Judge Kyle on account of the illness of the latter. Twelve cases were on the docket to be tried today but the court went into session at twelve o'clock and it will be impossible to try the full number. Those not tried will go on the docket for Tuesday.

Swollen River Led U. S. Birdmen Into Mexico

Lieutenants Peterson and Davis Give Detailed Story of Experiences While Held Captive by Bandit Band in Mexican Mountains

(International News Service)

MARFA, Tex., Aug. 25.—The first detailed story of their experiences while held captive by the Mexican bandits was given the International News Service today by Lieuts. Peterson and Davis, two army aviators, who returned to Marfa Sunday after leading the American punitive expedition into Mexico in a futile chase of the bandits.

"We left here at 9:30 Sunday morning to make a patrol of the border from LaJatos to Bosque Bonit. We reached LaJatos at 10:38 and proceeded up the Rio Grande. We went through and followed what we thought was the Rio Grande but which we later found was the Conchas. Our mistake was due to the swollen condition of the river which made it appear larger than the Rio Grande. We travelled up it until 11:30 when we observed the railroad crossing the river.

"This was not shown on our map and as we had been in the air two hours we decided to turn for home. After spending 15 or 20 minutes looking for the Southern Pacific railroad and failing to locate it, we turned back to the river for another look at the railroad bridge. While we were crossing the mountain the engine of our plane suddenly became a mass of smoke and stopped. We glided to the only level place we saw on top of the mountain and pan-caked the ship, at 12:30. The ship was a total wreck but we were uninjured. At 1:30 we took a compass from the airplane and with a canteen about one third full of water we began walking. That night we could not sleep. At 3 a. m. we found a small Mexican ranch where we were given water. We later came to the Conchas and walked along the bank until 9:30 Monday night.

"At 5:30 Monday two airplanes passed over us but were too high for us to attract their attention. We managed to sleep a little Monday night and began walking again at 5:30 Tuesday morning. We tried swimming down the river, which did not work. At 5:30 o'clock Wednesday morning we were on our way and at 8:30 reached a small village. As we were leaving two heavily armed Mexicans followed us, others joined them and when we were some ways out of town we were overtaken, our guides sent back and we were ordered to follow the bandits. They carried us far into the mountains where we were kept until rescued by Captain Matlock."

CALL IS MADE FOR MORE MINISTERS BY REV. MORRIS

Dr. W. E. Morris, of Decatur, Presiding Elder of the Decatur district, M. E. church, South, left yesterday afternoon for Lake Juanaliska, near Asheville, N. C., where for a week or ten days he will be in conference with Presiding Elders from the entire Southern Methodist church.

According to Dr. Morris, the purpose of the conference is to devise ways and means "for transmitting into spiritual power the great Centenary fund which was so recently provided. Bishop James Atkins, of Nashville, is chairman of the committee which called the conference and he is expected to preside at its sessions.

Dr. Morris gave further information about the conference to the Central Methodist church congregation yesterday morning, when he preached on the claims of the Christian ministry. The preacher explained that he had been asked to speak in place of Rev. W. P. McGlawn, the pastor, who for the day was occupying the pulpit of Rev. L. W. Young, of the Ninth street Methodist church. Rev. Young, it was stated, was preaching in a great revival meeting at Vincennes, where according to Dr. Morris 5 converts have already united with the church, "and the end is not yet."

Text, and Parts of Sermon
"Therefore, He said unto them, the harvest truly is great, but the laborers are few, pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that He would send laborers into his harvest." This text from Luke 10:2 was used by the speaker as the basis of a heart felt appeal for more gospel preachers and more gospel workers.

He said that it was one of the regrets of his life that for some years the Decatur district, though having a membership of 10,000, had not out of that large membership sent forward a single candidate for the ministry. The speaker reminded that such a state of affairs was anything but satisfactory. He reminded that next Friday, August 29th was fast day and one of prayer and consecration throughout the entire connection, that Methodism every where might shortly experience a great revival of religious zeal and effort.

Some of the things said by Dr. Morris were: "A critical time had arisen in Christ's ministry because of His very success. He felt the need of more laborers to care for the multitudes that were flocking to His stand-

JASPER TO MEET LOCALS 3 GAMES ON THE HOME LOT

The Jasper aggregation and the Albany-Decatur band will tie up this afternoon in the first of the three contests to be played at the local field Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The battery of the home team has not been announced but Lewis will probably adorn the mound for Manager Hames and will give the crew from Jasper all they are looking for.

Following the trio with the Jasper team the Lawrenceburg outfit meets the locals at Lynnville for a couple of bouts, they then journey to Pulaski, another Tennessee hamlet, and have another tussle. After the three games the clans will return here and meet in a twin bill on Labor Day. The two will also play the second and third of September on the local stamping grounds.

The visitors will bring two stars, one of whom is well known here. He is no other than George Kircher, formerly of the Nashville Vols. The other is Henderson, a twirler, who has pitched five no hit, no run games this season.

EQUALITY IS THEME OF PASTOR WILKS ON Y. M. C. A. LAWN

It was Dr. W. P. Wilks' turn to speak at the Y. M. C. A. lawn meeting last night and he did so with unusual force and clearness.

Rev. W. P. McGlawn described the sermon "as one dealing in the fundamentals of Christianity." Added to this was the confident and forceful attitude of the preacher throughout his sermon which was based on the words of St. Paul: "That there might be equality."

Any thoughtful man present who had felt that equality could be attained on this earth without the Christian motive prevailing, would have gone away disillusioned. In closing his discourse the speaker said with irresistible force and logic: "So I come to you with the great ideal, that not opportunity, not ability nor living conditions alone suffice, but you must have a life—a life and motive made in you by the Son of God in order to have that equality, that true equity, of which the Apostle writes."

Said the speaker in another place: "It seems to me that we have gotten the idea of equality out of kilter in some respects. It seems to me that we should have remuneration according to the life and effort we put into our work. Because a man goes through a day's work, unless he puts his full effort into it, I do not think he should have as much as the man who puts in every minute and his very life."

I think that a man who by steady habits fits himself for doing more and better work, ought to receive more consideration, than the man who just foos along and will not keep himself fit and don't want to. In a word Christianity puts the premium on manhood and not on a class."

Inequalities Not by God

In the outset the preacher said that Nature and the Bible showed that God is equal in dealing with humanity, that inequalities had been caused by man's inhumanity to man, and the lack of effort on the part of some. The equalizing power of Christianity was traced from the time of slavery until now, when it is not allowed. It was shown how woman had every privilege now, that comes to man including the right to vote. "Christ's plan all through the ages was to bring about equality. But he never resorted to the revolutionary method. His was not the method of the Bolshevik, the Russian Red or the rank Socialist. Christ did not use dynamite to blow up the universe, but He held the torch of truth aloft. He who takes things into his own hands is not following the desires of Jesus, who was infinitely more concerned for justice than any man can be."

"He who thinks he can tear the world all to pieces as the Russian Reds have done will fail to get it back together just as they have failed."

The speaker dissented from the old idea of certain classes wearing certain garbs to distinguish them, and added that now even a minister could dress as other people and still be a minister.

"When Christ came," said the speaker, "the man who worked with his hands was held as a part of the property of the man he worked for. Under His equalizing influence, the workers in the industrial world have taken their rightful place of equality with the men who furnish the brains and money. But I say, that had Christ held on to His equality with God and not left the courts of heaven to become one of us these things would never have been."

Uncleanness Discussed

The speaker said that 500,000 of the 2,000,000 people in Alabama were on the sick list day and night, "mostly from preventable diseases." He said that such a condition should be changed for economic reasons if for no other. He said that of the over 10,000 children of school age in the

TIE UP IN WEST MAY BE EXTENDED TO OTHER LINES

(International News Service.)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Whether the strike of the Big Four Train and Engine service brotherhoods and Switchmen, which has all but completely tied up freight and passenger traffic here, will be carried to the Santa Fe, Salt Lake and Southern Pacific railroads, was a probability today, when thousands of strikers, at a mass meeting, decided to extend the tie up unless settlement comes immediately.

School Tax Carried Indication Today

Four precincts had reported to the probate office this afternoon on the special three mill school tax election held in many sections of Morgan county Saturday, but it is believed that the measure carried in most of them. Reports from Eva stated the vote there was 19 to 4 in favor of the tax and at Hartselle it was carried by a big majority.

It is expected all of the boxes will have reached here by Tuesday.

MORGAN MAN'S WAR RECORD MAY LAND A PAROLE FOR HIM

Fred Pentecost, Under Assumed Name of Arthur Griffon, Served Country in France

Convicted of forgery in Morgan county in 1913, later escaped from the state prison, Fred Pentecost, veteran of the world war under the assumed name of Arthur Griffon, has been recommended for a parole by the Alabama Board of Pardons and Judge Thomas W. Wert, who presided at Pentecost's trial.

The career of the Morgan county man has been a strange one. He was convicted in the courts here on July 7, 1913 and was sent to prison. The amount involved was small. He was made a trusty but grew tired of his confinement and escaped.

Pentecost enlisted in the army a short time afterward under the name of Griffon and served in France with the 25th division, which was relieved by Judge Wert's division from the front line trenches. On May 6, 1919, Pentecost was given an honorable discharge. He served in several battles being a member of the 129th machine gun company.

PALMER WILL GET BIG FUND TO FIGHT THE 'PROFITEERS'

(International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Attorney General Palmer will be granted a fund of $2,400,000 to conduct his nationwide drive against profiteers, but the request of the Department of Labor, Commerce and Agriculture for special funds will be turned down by congress, according to members of the House appropriations committee today.

The brick, roofing and the glass has all been ordered and the building will be ready for the firm in ninety days.

The structure, while built on the same plan on the outside as the present mill in Albany, will be much more convenient in the handling of machinery than the Albany building. The lumber is being stacked now. The building is to be 65x150 feet.

SHEFFIELD'S MINORITY GOVERNS THE COMMUNITY

The Tri-Cities Daily, in a semi-editorial news story, asks the residents of Sheffield if their city is really governed by a majority or by a minority and sets forth a startling indictment of the election laws of Alabama. A population estimate of 8,000 and 9,000, Sheffield has only 308 qualified voters.

The question propounded by the Tri-Cities Daily is equally applicable to nearly every community in Alabama. Under the burden of a rapidly growing population and a war, our election laws have become inadequate to support the voting machinery of the state. The Alabama statutes require two years residence within the state before a resident can become a qualified voter; it requires also that registration be made before the registration board whose meetings are few and far between.

Under our laws, the many new and desirable citizens who have settled in Alabama recently must wait two years and perhaps three before they have a voice in the government under which they live. Under our present laws one of those former voters who left their homes in answer to the call of their country and whose poll taxes were not paid by some accommodating friend or relative can vote now. Under our present laws all of those young men who attained their majority while serving with the colors, could not register and therefore are disfranchised until next year. Is there any wonder people frequently ask what the legislature is for?

"The Crow's Nest" is the sea-faring title of a new column on the editorial page of The Birmingham News. Just under the heading we find the column is composed of the contributions of Peterson Marzoni and Henry Vance, two able members of its editorial staff. Probably the salty atmosphere was supplied by Mr. Marzoni, or "Pete" as he is more familiarly known by his many friends in newspaper circles and out of them. Mr. Marzoni was one of the first to answer the call of his country in 1917 just after America entered the war and only recently laid aside his sword for his pen. The cleverness of both of the contributors should make the new feature a success.

WE CALLED IT NEWS

"Ed. is all the while saying he wants folks to give him news for the paper, but I guess he isn't very anxious for it," said the man who was waiting his turn in the barber chair. "I went down to New York last week to buy goods," he went on, "and wrote out a little piece about it. I don't see it in the paper, though."

The man in the chair waited until the barber had safely circumscribed his chin and then said, "Why, yes, it is, leastwise when my wife was reading the personals aloud last night I remember there was one that J. W. Pierce was in New York last week on business."

"Well, I didn't see it," broke in the aggrieved one. "And besides, that wasn't what I gave him."

"Wait a minute," said the barber. "Bet I know what you wrote. About like this wasn't it?"

"J. W. Pierce was in the metropolis last week, where he purchased a large stock of the latest things in men's and women's apparel which will be on sale in a few days. He calls special attention to the line of $1.98 shirt waists which are finest for the money ever brought into Bloomville. The Pierce store always has the choicest merchandise on sale and will save money."

"Not exactly," grudgingly admitted the dry goods man, "but something like that, with real news in it."

"Uh, huh," said the barber with a wink at the man he was shaving. "Let's see, Jim, you advertise quite a lot in the paper in the course of a year, don't you? Pay the editor quite a lot of money, I suppose?"

"No, siree," emphatically declared the merchant. "You don't catch me wasting any money in advertising. It doesn't pay!"—New York Agricultural College News Bulletin.

The Alabama house seems quite willing to be known as the fellows who put the 'il' in Kilby.

"Crusaders of Chaos," is a good name for the Bolsheviks.

Fixing the profiteer so he can't come back is a bigger job than fixing prices.

Since earthly mansions are getting so expensive, "mansions in the sky" ought to become more popular.

When the President said he would not return from Europe until "it was over, over there" he evidently did not mean the twenty three little wars that are now raging.

It will be as hard to educate the people up to profiteer prices as it is to drive a camel through the eye of a cambric needle.

The courts of justice throughout the land engender no hatred when they try and condemn a criminal. So why all this soft stuff about arousing eternal hate, if criminal William Hohenzollern is tried for his life?

The cool mornings now just before day, indicate that the backbone of summer has been slightly bent if not broken.

When both the Twin Cities get silk mills, perhaps the feeling of "fine as silk" will take the place of more objectionable feelings.

Loud-mouthed disputations on how extravagant people are do not make it clear that extravagant people should be charged exorbitant prices.

The main reason the food profiteer could get away with it so long, was because he was selling to hungry customers who needed the food.

The clothing man prospered for a similar reason. He was selling to people who had more pride as to covering than they had sense.

Making it hot for the cold storage people is a new wrinkle for Uncle Sam.

The only thing that prohibition has deprived the American people of here and there, is a bad breath or two.

What Is Wise Spending?

Wise spending is the foundation of intelligent saving. We must spend to live; just as we must work to earn. If we spend foolishly, we get less for our work, have less to save, less to spend in the future.

Wise spending means that we think before we spend. Then we buy, to our ability, what we really need today. But we wisely hold some money, for tomorrow's, or next month's or next year's needs or unforeseen emergencies.

Wise spending gives us more for our work now, and leaves more money for future spending.

It is getting full value in goods, comforts, service, advancement, and fun.

War Savings Stamps are a wise purchase.

Be Strong

Strength of body, strength of nerves, strength of mind, depend very largely on whether you have enough iron in your blood. The world makes way for the strong people and they generally get what they want, out of life. Pale, weak, sickly, nervous, peevish, thin, dyspeptic individuals, need iron to build them up.

ZIRON IRON TONIC

will put iron into your blood and help restore your health and strength. Eminent physicians agree as to the vital need of iron by the run-down system. ZIRON will give it to you.

J. E. Clifton, R. F. D. 3, Lyons, Ga., writes: "Last summer I had typhoid fever and had hemorrhages... and my health was wretched. I seemed to be unable to get my strength back. I had no appetite. I had no energy. I didn't think I was ever going to get well. My knees were weak, my flesh felt clammy. I was in a pretty bad condition. I heard of ZIRON and what a good tonic and strengthener it was and I sent for it at once. It helped me, I began to improve, and soon felt much better and stronger. My nerves were strengthened and I felt like doing something. We have nothing but words of praise for ZIRON". Try ZIRON.

county of Morgan, only about half of them attended school regularly. He said with all the wealth of this state, Alabama should not be the third most illiterate state in the union as was now the case. He called attention to the large number of our boys who were barred from full participation in the war because of moral diseases brought on by impure lives. The speaker called on all as one man to arise and drive out the houses of ill fame, just as the open saloon has been banished. At the close of his sermon the speaker asked any who would to close with the divine offer to be "born again" according to the word of the Master.

"We may not understand this new birth fully, but we can take hold of it, we can accept it just as the millions of twice born men have done."

FARMER'S WIFE AND HER FATHER GREATLY HELPED

Mr. Hewitt, the well known farmer declares Dreco has done great work in his family; going to take it him self now.

"My wife has been greatly benefited by taking Dreco, and my father-in-law Mr. S. V. Williams, who live with us, also has received much relief from a bad kidney trouble by taking it," declares Mr. L. S. Hewitt of Route 2, Anniston.

"My wife was a delicate little woman, complaining all the time from nervousness, biliousness, constipation, stomach disorders and indigestion. So many of her friends were taking Dreco, that I got three bottles to give it a full trial, and it sure has done her a world of good. She looks better than I've seen her look in several years, and is full of life now. Constipation is entirely overcome; no more gas in her stomach; her liver is active and nerves steady again, so that she now sleeps fine.

"My wife's father started taking Dreco for his kidney trouble and back ache, and it is remarkable how much better he is. He declares he hasn't had a pain since the first day he began taking Dreco, and his stiff joints are all gone.

"Dreco did so much for my family that I'm getting a three bottle treatment to begin on myself, and fully expect it to do me as much good as it did the others."

Any remedy that restores the natural functions of the human body is a health-making remedy. The use of Dreco, the great herb medicine, tends to restore the appetite, to procure natural digestion, which is followed by an increased circulation and nutrition of the whole body. Lean, haggard, bloodless people begin to gain weight, strength, and flesh at once by taking Dreco, as they themselves declare in signed testimonials.

Dreco is sold by all good druggists and is highly recommended in Albany by Albany Drug Co., and in Decatur by Hilda Drug Co.—Advertisement.

Call is Made For More Ministers By Rev. Morris

ard. He therefore asked his followers to pray after the manner of the words of our text."

"The Master increased his twelve to seventy, and still that was not enough. Since His ascension, there has been a continually increasing need of more workers in His vineyard."

Church Enters Questions

"Not only has the gospel been carried to every country and every isle and of the sea, but her activities have been extended into all the various activities and avenues of human effort. Until the social and labor world and all business activities have been shot through and permeated by the spirit of Christianity our work has but begun."

"I am sorry that I have to lay the blame for this shortage in the ministry on the home. If we had a family altar in every one of our homes, I believe there would be a different result to make. Do you know that it is out of such homes that what ministers who do have come? 86% of all our preachers come from homes where the family altar is maintained. 88% come from homes where both father and mother are professed Christians. Only 10% come from homes where only one parent is a Christian; while at 2% of our ministers come from non-Christian homes. I know that you now, that I do not do so in the spirit of fault finding. But we are letting these institutions take the place of the church worship too much. They are educational in their work, while the church is for worship and spiritual growth."

Why hens never lay half an egg!

The usual method of feeding mostly grain, makes yolks but not enough whites to complete the eggs. As the hen cannot lay these half-made eggs, she absorbs them back into her system. Missouri Experiment Station tests showed that 100 lbs. of wheat, corn, oats, barley and kafir corn make (above bodily maintenance) an average of 224 yolks but only 154 whites. Based on data from the same experiments, Purina formulates produce, (above bodily maintenance) as follows:

Purina Scratch Feed	247.49 yolks	142.11 whites
Purina Chicken Chowder	182.05	282.55
Combined Ration	429.54 yolks	424.66 whites

Note the perfect balance of yolks and whites and the large number of each. This combination of Purina Feeds makes the maximum number of complete eggs, eggs a hen will lay. That's why we can absolutely guarantee
